

FOR THAT UNIQUE HOLIDAY GIFT!

JUST RELEASED!!!.....

What better source of stories and tales from a by-gone railroad than from the employees. In 1970, twenty-two employees were interviewed in search of information about the various aspects of the railroad operation, and from these interviews stories were told that can not be found anywhere else. A view of a lifestyle not to be found on any railroad today, when pulling pranks and incidents at the time would have a humorous turn.

“These stories looks at railroad life when it still had humor.”

Dale Jenkins

The book is perfect bound, soft-cover, eighty pages of interesting stories, with color photos, from those that created them. This is a project of the Illinois Traction Society with the purpose of generating revenue towards the continued operation of this organization. This will make a unique gift for the IT railfan in your life. Sit down with your favorite beverage, curl up in your easy chair, and step back into a time past as you enjoy the stories and tales.
